

The Call

For 12 years, Tim Reilly sold insurance in the market place and did lay ministry for free. Eventually, he started to work in the church as a volunteer, and then retired from insurance and supported his family as a pastor. During that time, he launched Compelled, a ministry that does evangelism in a different way. As of November 2014, God has led him to be a full-time missionary, stepping out in faith trusting that God will provide for his and his family's needs, while doing exactly what God has created him to do.

The Process (What Compelled Does)

- Creates Compelled Evangelism teams at multiple churches, that will serve the church in evangelism and outreach ministry, to be a resource and champions of proclaiming the Gospel in their sphere of influence.
- Meets with unconvinced seekers who have questions and want to engage in discussions about Jesus, who we connect with through the Internet, referrals from churches and college ministries.
- Itinerant speaking ministry at colleges all over the state, but primarily Stanford, San Jose State, and Santa Clara University.
- Church leadership development and strategy: Creates strategy and equips staff and lay leaders to have outward focus and a tangible, applicable, and tailor-made plan to reach the sphere of influence in which the church affects.
- Teaches Compelled 101 (Equips disciples to engage their friends and family with the Gospel): 4-week training of applicable teaching, fill in the blank, practiced application, and homework to help work the muscles of evangelism. Over 3000 have been equipped in person, plus hundreds more online.
- Teaches Compelled 201 (Develops "Disciple Makers"): Equips followers of Jesus to replicate disciple makers by giving tools for discipleship, a reproducible plan, and defines discipleship. Taught to those who have completed Compelled 101 and really want to help answer the question: "I've reached my friend; what do I do with them now?"
- Helps network and connect different churches throughout the Bay Area to help share resources, strategize to reach their communities, and exhibit unity among different churches of various denominations.
- Online ministry: Compelled.org was created as a resource for followers, skeptics, and seekers. Over 200 sermons, trainings, and messages are available for people to watch and share. There are specific tracks on the discipleship page for people who want to use the teachings with the questions provided as a tool to help walk with someone they are discipling. Over the past 3 years, Compelled has experienced incredible fruit through the online ministry: from people being encouraged, to equipped, to reached with the Gospel.

The Vision

Evangelism, especially in the 21st century, seems to have taken a turn towards accosting people with moral reform. Proclaiming the good news of Jesus used to be something that came naturally from those who had experienced the grace of Christ through His death and resurrection for our sins-and the freedom of His lordship over our lives.

Ultimately, the vision of the Compelled ministry is to help deconstruct and reconstruct Evangelism and Discipleship, starting with the Bay Area.

"Yet, when I preach the gospel, I cannot boast, for I am compelled to preach. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel!" 1 Corinthians 9:16
